"Sales Days" Are Scheduled For Weekend

Regardless of the temperatures, the hottest thing in Gettysburg this weekend will be the semi-annual Gettysburg Sales Days Friday and Saturday.

Gettysburg retail merchants promise "out of this world" values on summer merchandise which has been greatly reduced in time for local shoppers to reap great seasonal benefits. Thousands of items will be slashed to provide tremendous savings on school clothes and late summer vacation wear.

In addition, merchants will give over $1,500 in cash, savings bonds and merchandise, regardless of purchases. Customers are asked merely to deposit the free coupon in a box in the store it is received and keep the stub until after the drawings are made. Winners will be announced at the conclusion of Gettysburg Sales Days Saturday evening. The winning stub must be presented in order to claim the award.

DISPLAY PENNANTS

The participating stores will display the familiar yellow pennants which assure shoppers of great reductions on merchandise. Prizes include five $100 Savings Bonds; five $50 Savings Bonds, ten $25 Savings Bonds. The Gettysburg National Bank will donate four $10 cash prizes and the Adams County National Bank of Gettysburg will give a $25 savings account. Each participating store will give a $10 merchandise certificate.

Most of the stores participating in Gettysburg Sales Days will offer free parking at centrally located parking lots, Friday and Saturday. All stores will be open until 9 o'clock each evening.

START WORK ON COUNTY CHURCH FOR MIGRANTS

Migrant workers from Adams County farms and orchards over the weekend began clearing land given them for construction of their own church.

Rev. Joseph Haggler, Carlisle, Protestant chaplain who carries on a religious and recreation program for the migrants under sponsorship of the state and county councils of churches, said the one-acre plot of ground for the church has been donated by the C. H. Musselman Division. The lot is located near the Breezewood camp, near Bendersville.

Migrants have cleared land for construction of a 32' by 52' pavilion type church, to be known as the "Adams County Migrant Church," and are now engaged in clearing out the remainder of the lot to serve as a picnic grounds for the church.

MATERIALS DONATED

The church itself will be a pavilion type structure which will have sides to permit its being enclosed when weather is inclement, or it is not in use.

Musselman's will donate some of the materials. Rev. Haggler said he has been informed. Migrant laborers will help construct the building. It is hoped that the church can be completed by the middle of August.

Rev. Haggler said three persons had offered land for the church: Richard Trostle, Arthur Rice and Mr. Hauser. The latter site was accepted as the most suitable.

The land will be deeded to these trustees for the church, Rev. Mr. Haggler and Walter Stevens and George Bostwick, both migrant laborers from Florida.

Funds are needed for pews and other furnishings for the church. Rev. Fred Trimble, Arendtsville United Church of Christ pastor, who is director of migrant work for the county council of churches, is accepting donations toward the fund for purchase of church supplies and furnishings.

POLICE SOLVE MISSING CAR CASE QUICKLY

Borough police Saturday afternoon did a good job solving a crime, only to find that no crime had occurred.

At 12:20 o'clock Saturday afternoon Charles E. Cox, Waukegan, Ill., called Borough police from Banker's Restaurant, alleging that two friends had stolen the car he was driving while he was in the restaurant getting information concerning traffic routes. The car, said Cox, was owned by Doris Reveria of Waukegan, and he listed Arthur Martuccini, 20, and Jerry Slade, 22, as the persons he believed had left with the car. He then gave a description of the vehicle.

FIND VEHICLE

Borough police started a search and at 1:45 spotted the vehicle in Lincoln Square. They stopped the vehicle and then learned that it wasn't stolen.

The two men in the then south-bound vehicle said they had waited for Cox to come out of the restaurant, then deciding he probably would be busy for some time decided to drive into town to get some articles. They were delayed on their return trip and were enroute for Cox when police spotted them.

According to the police call sheet, the officers got the three men together, found "everything ok" and then notified state police who had been asked to join in the search for the car, that the search had been called off.

EISENHOWER IS PRESENTED FARM AWARD

Former President Eisenhower was presented a bronze plaque at his farm Saturday morning symbolizing his selection as an honorary Master Farmer.

The presentation was made by Dr. Norman Reber, Harrisburg, president of the Pennsylvania Farmer magazine. General Eisenhower was unanimously selected by the board of judges for his "personal interest in farming, his good citizenship and his intense interest and devotion toward freedom for all men."

250 MASTER FARMERS

Dr. Reber said that since 1927 approximately 250 persons had been selected Master Farmers in Pennsylvania. The judges represent the College of Agriculture of Pennsylvania University, the Pennsylvania Farmer magazine, and others interested in agriculture. Six of the seven surviving Adams countians who have been selected master farmers were among the more than 100 persons who visited the Eisenhower farms Saturday morning for the presentation. They are John H. Menges, who was selected in 1940; Mrs. Rose Murren, the only woman ever to earn the title, 1941; William M. Lott, 1948; Roy H. Heckeluber, 1951; Clarence J. Waybright, 1961, and Robert C. Lott, 1961. John B. Peters, 1951, was unable to attend.

In expressing his thanks for the honor General Eisenhower said that he has "great sense of appreciation for the word Master. In my case it may be an exaggeration. I haven't had as much experience in farming as I would like. The credit for any success in agriculture on my farms should go to two deserving and capable men, Mr. Hartley and General Nevins, my supervisor. Both men are well qualified and very efficient. I want to extend a warm welcome to all of you. I'm glad you came and I hope you enjoy yourself."

SEE PRIZE BEEF

Robert Hartley and other farm personnel showed a number of prize heifers and bulls to the interested audience. The farmers came in four chartered buses and several private cars. William and Robert Lott, on behalf of the master farmers of Adams County presented two baskets of fruit to General Eisenhower before the group left for Peach Glen where they were luncheon guests at the Knoose Foods plant.

Among the guests were Pasqual P. Pecora, Hazleton, president of the Master Farmers Association; Leland Bull, Pennsylvania secretary of agriculture; Under Secretary of Agriculture, Jack Grey; Russell Larson, dean of the College of Agriculture at Pennsylvania State University; Thomas E. Piper, Adams County farm agent, and Frank S. Zettle, former Adams County farm agent.

FINE MD. MAN FOR LITTERING

Survivors Flee Yugoslav Capital As New Danger Of Typhus Epidemic Threatens

By PHIL DOPOULOS

SKOPJE, Yugoslavia (AP) — Survivors by the thousands fled quake-shattered Skopje and the threat of a typhus epidemic today.

As authorities announced the search for more survivors would end after today, the government reported a Yugoslav girl was pulled out of the rubble, still alive 80 hours after she was entombed in Friday's killer earthquake.

Premier Alexander Grlickov of the Macedonian Republic said the number of bodies recovered headed toward the 900 mark and an estimated 700 dead were still buried under rubble.

WILL RAZE CAPITAL

But Grlickov said it would be assumed that no one else now could be found alive and the government would go ahead on the conviction to raze all the buildings in this ancient Macedonian capital.

Possible epidemics and renewed earthquakes posed a constant problem, he said. There were a few new tremors Sunday but they were slight.

On the fourth day after the cataclysmic quake demolished the city, the stench of cracked sewers, human waste and refuse mingling with the smell of decomposing bodies lay like a stifling blanket over the sun-scorched area. Temperatures were in the 90's.

DANGER OF TYPHUS

Each passing hour brought the danger of possible typhus outbreak even closer.

Now, Grlickov said, the main concern was finishing the evacuation of all people not engaged in clearing work or other essential jobs and putting heavy demolition crews to work razing the city.

A new city for the 270,000 population will be built from the ground up on a safer site to be determined after seismological studies are completed, Grlickov said.

SOME AREAS GET SHOWERS LATE SUNDAY

A thunderstorm that brought rain to some northern sections of the county and dumped more than an inch of rain at Carlisle and some West Shore areas missed Gettysburg and much of the county Sunday evening but dropped temperatures to more comfortable levels.

The high readings at The Gettysburg Times weather station for Saturday and Sunday showed 95 degrees.

Saturday night's low of 75 degrees made it the hottest night this summer. Records show it was the hottest night here since July 22, 1957, when the "low" reading was 77 degrees.

Sunday was the ninth day this month with temperatures in the 90's. The high of 95 for the weekend equalled a mark set here on July 1 as they battle centennial celebration began.

CROPS SUFFERING

The Arendtsville weather station reported 15 hundredths of an inch of rain Sunday evening and unofficial reports from Biglerville listed three-quarters of an inch there. Heidlersburg had rain but York Springs did not.

The showers missed Fairfield but Waynesboro had rain and a baseball game was rained out at Harney, New Oxford, East Berlin and McSherrystown had rain.

Growing crops in most sections of the county are suffering from lack of rain. This month is about three inches short of normal rainfall and the rainfall so far this year is about seven inches short of normal.

Cornfields are suffering for lack of rain in many parts of the county and fruitmen say apple and peach orchards are in need of rain. Some growers have been irrigating their peach acreage.

Streams are low but the water supply from Marsh Creek has proven adequate so far for the town's needs. Water consumption has increased with the hot, dry weather as lawn and garden sprinkling has become a regular practice for many.

Argentine Fruit Specialist Here

Maximo Guimpel, chief of extension in the Rio Negro fruit area of Argentina, today is concluding a week with Entomologist Dean Asquith at the Pennsylvania State University laboratory at Arendtsville.

The men spent considerable time together earlier this year while Professor Asquith was in Argentina studying the fruit growing industry there.

Guimpel's headquarters is at Cipolletti where he specializes in extension work on fruit with members of his staff. He is in this country for six months on a fellowship and spent his first 10 days in the U.S. in Washington, D.C. Then he went to Penn State University and last Wednesday came to this county. He has been a guest in the Asquith home at Biglerville during his visit here.

He leaves Tuesday for a three-state meeting of fruitmen in the Pittsburgh area and will return to Penn State later. Much of the remainder of his time in the United States will be spent in the Pacific Northwest.

Visiting here over the weekend with his wife and two children for a tour of the Battlefield, he had been in his usual health Saturday evening.

He became ill Sunday morning and a local physician was summoned. The local ambulance was also called to provide oxygen but despite the effort extending over an hour, death occurred. The cause was listed as acute coronary occlusion and ventricular fibrillation.

YOUNG DRIVER JAILED AFTER SPEEDY CHASE

Billy Eugene Larmer, 18, Fairfield R. 2, was arrested by borough police at 12:50 o'clock Sunday morning and lodged in jail in default of $25 fine and costs on a charge of reckless driving.

Police said Larmer was being followed west on W. Middle St. at 90 miles per hour. After going over the top of Seminary Ridge Larmer's car ran into a ditch and struck the driveway at the property of John Bream. The vehicle had to be towed from the scene. Larmer was placed in jail until about 8 o'clock Sunday morning when the fine and costs were paid to Justice of the Peace Robert P. Snyder, and he was released.

The accident was one of several investigated by borough police over the weekend. Sgt. IC Charles Edwin Scaggs, Fort Ritchie, Md., paid fines of $25 each and costs to Justice of the Peace Anna Thompson on hit and run and reckless driving charges Saturday afternoon. Borough police said Scaggs was operating a car late Friday night when it struck a parked jeep owned by Fred Martin, York St. Damage to Martin's vehicle was estimated at $125.

According to the police report spectators followed the "hit-run" vehicle to the edge of town, getting the description and license number. Later authorities at Fort Ritchie were notified and they sent Scaggs here to enter pleas of guilty on the two charges.

More than 200 members of the families of Pennsylvania Master Farmers braved Saturday's torrid temperatures to tour the farms of Adams County Master Farmers where they were served fruit refreshments and received small baskets of Adams County peaches as a memento of their visit.

The tour was made in four air-conditioned buses and started Saturday morning from the Mason-Dixon farm of Master Farmer Clarence Waybright, then proceeded to the Eisenhower Farms where the former president accepted an honorary Master Farmer award. Enroute to the Peach Glen plant of Knoose Foods for lunch, the visitors stopped at the farms of Roy Heckeluber and Robert C. Lott.

KNOUSE SPEAKS

John B. Peters, Master Farmer of 1959, and vice president of Knoose Foods, introduced M. E. Knoose, president of the firm, who welcomed the guests and gave a brief description of the fruit producing areas of Adams County. The tour proceeded to the Peters Orchards and Bonnie Brae Orchards of William M. Lott and returned via the battlefield to the Waybright farm. France Won't Sign Moscow Pact On Nuclear Testing; Pledges France Won't Attack

By HARVEY HUDSON

PARIS (AP) — President Charles de Gaulle said today France will not sign the Moscow agreement to halt nuclear testing above ground, in space or under water.

De Gaulle said that since France would never strike the first blow, such a nonaggression pact would be needless.

The president was referring to proposals advanced by the Russians in their recent talks with the United States and Britain that the limited nuclear test ban treaty by the three powers be tied into a European nonaggression pact. Premier Khrushchev has publicly asked for it, and the United States and Britain agreed to take up this subject with their allies.

PLEDGES NO AGGRESSION

De Gaulle commented: "Today, France solemnly declared through the voice of the president of the Republic that there will never be any aggression by France. Our participation in a pact of nonaggression is hence without purpose."

He also rejected any European nonaggression pact as proposed by the Soviet Union at the test ban talks with the United States and Britain. The test ban pact was initiated last week.

Addressing a crowded news conference, De Gaulle said France will call for a general conference on disarmament before the end of this year.

CAN'T HALT NOW

He declared that France will halt its own nuclear program only if the United States and the Soviet Union agree to destroy their nuclear stockpiles.

He said the disarmament conference should consider the destruction of stockpiles and the destruction of vehicles — such as missiles and rockets — for delivering nuclear bombs.

This is in line with long-established French policy — that France

DRIVES OFF END OF NEW BYPASS AND HITS TREES

A 79-year-old Florida resident Saturday afternoon became the first person to run off the north end of the new Route 15 bypass around Gettysburg.

Five miles north of here the road ends, pending completion of the new highway to join the present four-lane highway at York Springs.

Some distance before the end of the highway in a woods, numerous signs direct traffic to turn to get on "old Route 15" at Shriver's Corner, where traffic continues north.

State police said C. J. Palmer, 79, Smyrna Beach, Fla., passed all of the signs, including one that he had to drive around, and his car went off the end of the concrete, across stones and into the woods.

$400 DAMAGE TO CAR

Damage to the vehicle was estimated at $400. Palmer, and a passenger in the car, Hazel C. Fiala, 56, Milford, N.Y., were removed to the Warner Hospital in the local ambulance. Palmer, according to the police report, was treated for abrasions and contusions of the face and arms. Both he and the passenger in the car were admitted as patients at the hospital.

Paul Bobo, 32, Gettysburg R. 3, suffered a bruised left shoulder, state police said, when his car ran off the road 2 1/2 miles west of Fairfield at 6:30 Saturday evening. Police said Bobo's car failed to negotiate a curve, went off the right side of the road, then came back across the highway and went off the other side of the highway and struck a pole. Damage to the vehicle, which police listed as demolished, was listed at $50. Bobo, according to police, did not seek immediate medical care for his injury.

Police today continued their search for a hit-run driver who struck a car on Route 15 three miles south of here Saturday evening at 5:35. According to the officers John H. Jordan, Lula, Ga., was driving south, with another car being towed by his vehicle. An unknown auto struck the towed car, causing $200 damage, and continued on without stopping.

RR UNION HEAD HEARD TODAY

WASHINGTON (AP) — Roy E. Davidson told Congress today it would cost him his job as head of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers if he endorsed President Kennedy's plan to avert a strike over manpower-reducing railroad work rules.

"Even if I had the temerity or desire to commend the proposed legislation to the members of my union," Davidson said, "I am certain that there would be enthusiastic acclamation for my removal from the union's leadership."

Davidson said the Kennedy proposal "is not only compulsory arbitration, it is compulsory arbitration with the added evil of an utterly unfair preference for the demands of management."

Kennedy would have the Interstate Commerce Commission determine work rules, binding for two years unless unions and rail management negotiated a settlement.

Davidson, testifying before the House Commerce Committee, said the ICC is less capable of handling that assignment than any other arbitrator suggested in the four-year course of the dispute, adding "and the record of the ICC conveys no sense of reassurance whatever concerning bias and prejudgment."

ARIZONA TOWN IGNORES PLEA OF FORESTERS

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP) — Harshaw is a ghost town that won't die.

Frustrated U.S. Forest Service officials wish it would.

Because the town has no business being where it is — in the middle of the Coronado National Forest.

The 70 inhabitants — all that remain of a rip-roaring mining community of 2,000 — don't own the land on which they live and can't buy it.

They just ignore the government. After all, some of them lived in Harshaw long before there was a Forest Service.

For more than 50 years government officials tried to pretend that Harshaw didn't exist, not even showing it on the map of the Coronado Forest.

Now they would like to do something about it, but aren't sure where they should begin.

Harshaw is about seven miles from the wee Santa Cruz County village of Patagonia between Tucson and the Mexican border.

When the town was born in the 1880's, the many producing silver mines in the area could have given the residents the legal right to gain title to their land. They didn't do it. Land was cheap. There was lots of it. Why go to the bother?

NO LEGAL DEEDS

So there isn't a legal deed to the land in the whole community.

Once Harshaw had 30 saloons, several breweries, two or three hotels and boarding houses, dance halls, and stores and shops run by Americans, Mexicans and Chinese.

One train pulled by 15 and 16 mules rumbled through the town day and night on their way from the mines to the now-vanished railroad loading station of Cretenden.

Mrs. Elizabeth Hogan, who lives in a well-built and well-maintained home, is now in her late 70's but was born in Harshaw. She remembers the raiding renegade Apache Geronimo.

"In time of Indian trouble, the women and children would take refuge in a big, old stone house and stay there all night. The men stayed up around fires outside."

"That old Geronimo, he just went in and out of here. The Indians would come through here a lot, just rambling through. But I never knew them to molest anyone in town."

The apaches made their last raid in Santa Cruz County about the time she was born — in 1887. Twenty Indians raided Harshaw and killed one man in a nearby mine.

"Those were really terrible days to live in," Mrs. Hogan said. "My mother often said she lived in constant fear until old Geronimo was captured."

HARSHAW FOUND MINE

Harshaw was named after David Tecumseh Harshaw who was stationed in Tucson in 1862 with the First Regiment of Infantry of the California Column. As soon as he was mustered out of the Army he came back to Arizona, carved out a ranch in the San Pedro Valley, and then found a rich silver mine that carried his name.

Now Harshaw — with the exception of the Hogan and the old James Finley houses — is largely a hodge-podge of collapsed adobe buildings, wrecked cars and tin-roofed shacks from which the paint peeled years ago.

Some of the residents do not have any visible means of support. A few are on welfare and relief roles.

There is a small, well-maintained Roman Catholic Church and a school. Both are squatters, too, being built on federal government land.

The lack of a title to the land on which Santa Cruz County has built a school was explained by a county school official this way: "Harshaw has had three other schools on this site. I suppose everybody thought the town should continue to have a school."

So the Forest Service is haunted by a ghost town that shouldn't be — but is.

Coronado supervisor Clyde Doran said, "We are not going to bulldoze Harshaw down."

"But we would like to get rid of the old, junked cars and the rubbish and the rats' nests that are masquerading as houses."

"These shacks do not have any historical significance. They just stand there as an invitation for any out-of-work family to move in and set up housekeeping in the National Forest."

Now the Forest Service is trying to work out a land exchange for the town or special use permits for the residents.

The special use permits would give the residents who do not have any land to exchange the right to occupy their homes until they die. The homes could not be passed on to their heirs.

In the land exchange deal, the Forest Service would exchange land in Harshaw for land not in the National Forest.

Most of the residents just go on ignoring the whole business, confident they will continue to live where they have always lived on both sides of Harshaw Creek in the Patagonia Mountains. This is one ghost town, they fore Justice of the Peace George Lampert after members of the part were observed tossing the cans into the stream. When Officer Miller arrived Sappington admitted to tossing cans and was taken before the justice.

The section of the littering ordinance of Cumberland Twp. applying to the throwing of cans, bottles, etc., into the stream is being strictly enforced as a means of keeping the stream clean for swimmers who have been using the Marsh Creek area by the hundreds during the current hot weather.

Officer Miller said the Cumberland Twp. supervisors are considering increasing the fine for littering at their meeting in August in an effort to remind the public generally that the stream is for the enjoyment of all and that those who litter the stream will find it expensive. The Cumberland supervisors are considering boosting the fine to $100. Freedom Twp., which adjoins the stream on the south already has an ordinance calling for fines of up to $300 for littering.

46 INJURED AS BUS HITS 3 CARS, POLE

EDGEWATER PARK, N.J. (AP)—A Sunday outing ended with a screech and crash for 46 Pennsylvanians as their chartered bus struck three cars and crashed into a pole on Route 130 here.

Six persons were hospitalized and 17 others received minor injuries in the accident, which occurred at a traffic light in front of the state police barracks on the rain-slicked highway.

The bus, chartered from the Philadelphia Transit Corp. by a group known as the Jones Boys softball team of Philadelphia, was driven by James Woldanski, 32, of Trenton. It was returning home from a fishing outing in Brielle.

The injured were taken either to Zieff Memorial Hospital in Riverside or Rancocas Valley Hospital in Levittown. Six bus passengers were admitted at the hospital and 17 others from the bus and cars, were treated and released.

The accident occurred as the bus approached the traffic signal, where three cars already were stopped across the three-lane highway.

One bus passenger, Jimmy Dolan, 21, of Philadelphia, said: "All I remember was the fellow next to me saying 'Oh God.' He reached for the seat in front to brace himself."

"I heard us hit the second car," Dolan continued. "We hit another car, a no parking sign, a traffic signal box and a pole square in the middle."

Dolan, an Associated Press copy boy in Philadelphia, returned home early today after a hospital checkout.

Trooper Robert Coryell said the first car hit by the bus was that of Robert T. McKinley, 28, of Oak Valley, Pa. The bus then slid sideways into the other two cars, skipped a curb and went into the light pole.

The other car drivers, Francis Wagner, 39, of Riverside, and Arlene Black, 50, of Riverton, suffered shock.

Coryell said he ticketed Woldanski for careless driving.

Harriman and Secretary of State Dean Rusk face intensive questioning on the agreement and whether there may be in the offing any collateral pacts with the Soviet Union, such as a nonaggression declaration proposed by Soviet Premier Khrushchev.

However, the administration's strong support for the treaty—led by President Kennedy's declaration that it is "an important first step" toward peace—seemed likely to need a bolstering endorsement from the Joint Chiefs of Staff.

Harriman, who helped negotiate the pact in Moscow, appears before a closed, joint session of the Senate Foreign Relations, Senate Armed Services and Senate House Atomic Energy Committees.

HARRIMAN TO LEAD DEBATE ON TEST PACT

By JACK BELL

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate formally begins today its historic study of the pros and cons of the nuclear test ban agreement, with the views of the Joint Chiefs of Staff figuring to weigh heavily in the scales.

Undersecretary of State W. Averell Harriman is scheduled to lead off the drive to win Senate ratification of the American, British and Soviet agreement on a treaty to ban all nuclear tests except those under ground.

Harriman, who helped negotiate the pact in Moscow, appears before a closed, joint session of the Senate Foreign Relations, Senate Armed Services and Senate House Atomic Energy Committees.

Harriman and Secretary of State Dean Rusk face intensive questioning on the agreement and whether there may be in the offing any collateral pacts with the Soviet Union, such as a nonaggression declaration proposed by Soviet Premier Khrushchev.

However, the administration's strong support for the treaty—led by President Kennedy's declaration that it is "an important first step" toward peace—seemed likely to need a bolstering endorsement from the Joint Chiefs of Staff.

dren and old people had cleared out of the city by early morning and still they poured out, on foot and in cars, trains and planes.

Some pushed carts filled with a few salvaged belongings. Others pedaled bicycles slowly through the debris.

At government order, evacuation of everyone but men able to help in heavy work was being carried out.

The recovery of a Belgian couple from the rubble Sunday after 55 hours of being buried alive raised some hopes that more living might still be found.

Then rescue of the Yugoslav girl stirred another faint spark of hope.

Premier Grlicow said the work of completely razing the city would take only a few days, starting Tuesday.

CAIRO (AP)—Rescue workers, tired by a night-long search, said today they had pulled out all the bodies from three crowded tenement buildings which collapsed. They set the toll at 12 dead.

Nineteen people were found alive in the wreckage. Eight were hospitalized from near suffocation.

Officials said more than 100 persons lived in the three buildings in an old section of Cairo but only 31 were inside when the collapse occurred Sunday afternoon.

MILAN, Italy (AP)—Saboteurs knocked out service on two main lines between Italy and Switzerland for several hours Sunday by dynamiting the circuits on Italy's electrified railway system.

Police declined to speculate on who touched off the blasts. But it was generally assumed they were the work of pro-Austrian terrorists in the Tyrol region taken from Austria after World War I.

THOUSANDS FLEE QUAKE CITY

SKOPJE, Yugoslavia (AP)—Stunned survivors streamed out of quake-shattered Skopje by the thousands today, driven away by the stench of death and the threat of epidemic.

At government order all but men able to help in heavy rescue work poured out of the ruined city by foot, car, train or plane. Some pushed carts piled with their few salvaged belongings. Others made their way through the debris on bicycles. More than 70,000 women, children and old people have already left the city.

As searing summer heat brought an overpowering stench from the still entombed dead and from sewers cracked open by Friday's quake, officials warned that each hour made Skopje a greater potential target for epidemic.

New tremors were felt Sunday, but they were slight.

The number of recovered bodies neared 800. But it was believed the final toll would be far higher when the rubble was finally cleared in this city of 270,000 people.

Officials believed 300 Yugoslavs and foreign tourists lay dead beneath the ruins of the four-story Macedonian Hotel, which was the scene Sunday of the remarkable recovery alive of a Belgian couple and a Yugoslav.

The rescue after 55 hours of entombment of Serge Jacquemart, a 35-year-old Belgian biologist, and his wife Suzanne, 32, had sparked hope that more might be saved from the rubble of the hotel.

Rescue workers thought they heard voices of others while pulling them out.

BEAMS GAVE PROTECTION

"Suddenly, everything started shaking I grabbed my wife and held her tightly in my arms. Everything collapsed around us. We felt two stories. Fortunately two wooden beams and the ceiling fell above us forming a small dome which protected us. My legs were pinned under bricks and I was unable to move. My wife, however, was unhurt and could crawl and move about our prison."

"We had given up hopes of being saved. We could see daylight coming through the cracks in the ruins. We knew approximately how many hours we were in the ruins. We never slept, but closed our eyes for minutes at a time and saw visions."

Mrs. Jacquemart said they spent most of their time discussing the fate of their 6-year-old son should they die.

SHOUTED FOR HELP

"It was awful," she continued. "We could hear persons talking and walking about. The miners who rescued us could be heard moving above and we kept shouting for help."

"Our being saved was a miracle after we had given up hope and planned to kill ourselves."

The United States joined other nations in speeding aid to Skopje, the ancient capital of Yugoslav Macedonia and in recent years a major attraction for tourists visiting Yugoslavia.

Twenty-seven U.S. cargo planes completed a massive mercy airlift into Belgrade from West Germany bringing in an Army field hospital with 120 beds, 30 vehicles and 200 men.

AMERICAN AID

Crowds lining the streets of the Communist capital cheered the Americans as they drove in a convoy to Skopje 220 miles southeast of Belgrade. It was the first U.S. military unit to visit Yugoslavia since a small military advisory group left in 1956.

The mobile hospital was to be set up on the outskirts of Skopje. Many evacuees were sent to communities outside the quake zone or flown to distant towns and cities.

Skopje, just four days ago a bustling city, was a mass of ruins and rubble. Many buildings were still standing, but wall cracks and undermined foundations made them a menace.

Heavy wrecking machines moved ponderously about smashing down building after building.

FARM PAYROLL HAS DROPPED 60 PER CENT

By OVID MARTIN

WASHINGTON (AP)—An Agriculture Department report indicated today that machines and other technological developments have cut the farm labor payroll nearly 60 per cent during the last 15 years.

The figure is based on the assumption that the same number of hours of farm labor are used now as in 1948, and takes into account the increase in farm wage rates that has occurred between that year and the present.

As things now stand, farmers pay $3 billion a year in wages. But total employment is 73 per cent smaller than in 1948 and present-day farm wages are about 40 per cent higher.

Thus if farm employment were at the same level now as 15 years ago and workers were paid at today's rates, the annual farm labor bill would be in excess of 17 billion instead of the actual $3 billion.

Yet, with this greatly reduced use of labor, agriculture is producing nearly 25 per cent more than it did in 1948.

Contributing to this greatly reduced need of hand labor and the increased farm output are tractors, mechanical harvesters, other labor-saving machines and equipment; improved crop varieties; greater use of fertilizers and more effective soil and water conservation practices; and increased efficiency in converting grains, and grass and forage crops into milk, meat, eggs and poultry.

The Foreign Agricultural Service reports that the French poultry industry expects to cash in on the Western European poultry market being taken away from the United States by Common Market restrictions on outside supplies.

France has moved ahead fast as a poultry-exporting nation. It now produces about 46 per cent of the total poultry meat in the Common Market countries. In 1959 France was a net importer.

ONE HUNDRED YEARS AGO

Burning Of Stevens Furnace

The only private property destroyed by the order of an officer in the valley was the extensive Iron Works of Hon. Thaddeus Stevens, 15 miles west of this place. They consisted of a large charcoal furnace, Forge, Rolling-Mill, coal-house, shops, etc.

On Tuesday the 23rd a portion of Jenkins cavalry came upon the works by an unfrequented mountain road from Hughes' works and demanded the horses, and especially the two riding horses which they described.

They threatened that they would destroy the buildings if the horses were not given up. Mr. Sweeney, who has charge of the works, agreed to deliver up the riding horses if the property should be protected.

This they agreed to, but on going for the riding horses they met the teamsters and compelled them to produce all the horses and mules, nearly forty in all, with gears, harness, etc. They had evidently been minutely informed of the whereabouts of Mr. Stevens' horses as they described them and knew exactly where to go after them. The day after, Gen. Early rode up to the works accompanied by his staff and avowed his intention to destroy them. Mr. Sweeney reminded him that he would inflict a much more serious injury upon some hundred poor laborers who worked there than upon Mr. Stevens. Gen. Early replied that Mr. Stevens was "an enemy of the South, in favor of confiscating their property and arming their negroes and the property must be destroyed." He then placed a guard around it and gave special instructions that it should not be destroyed until he gave the order. He seemed exceedingly fearful that he might miss the delightful spectacle of Mr. Stevens' works in flames. He then returned to Greenwood, where he had his headquarters, but returned the next day and personally detailed Col. French, of Jenkins' guerrillas, with his command, to illustrate southern chivalry and humanity by applying the torch to the private property of Mr. Stevens because he was guilty of the crime of defending the Republic of our fathers. The work of destruction was well done and soon all the works were in ashes. The houses occupied by families were not fired. Some $3,000 worth of charcoal was destroyed, 7,000 lbs. of bacon stolen, leaving the families of the laborers without food, in spite of the earnest representations made by Mr. Sweeney as to their necessities. Mr. Stevens' loss is not less than $50,000.

The Bank of Gettysburg has resumed its operations and is transacting business as before the Rebel invasion. This excellent institution has suffered no pecuniary loss, beyond the inconvenience occasioned by the hasty removal of its valuables to a place of safety, and the delay of business incident to its doors being closed for the time being.

The Ladies Of Gettysburg: The Rev. Dr. Krauth, in his paper last week — The Lutheran and Missionary — among other pertinent allusions to the Gettysburg fight, refers to the patriotism of the Christian women of that place in the following terms: "Amid the very horrors of the conflict, with the missiles of death flying around them, the ladies brought forth food and drink for our faint and for a little time retreating soldiers, thoughtful and anxious, yet calm and self-possessed, they gave themselves to the ministrations of mercy. They have watched by the wounded — they have borne comfort even to the suffering rebels, the men whose wounds were received in the effort to waste and destroy their happy homes, their cherished Staet, and their beloved country. Speedy has been the reward to these brave, true women. The iron heel of invasion

FORGET THE FOOTLIGHTS

If we could but know? How much there is behind that simple question! Perhaps all the judgment of a complaining and criticizing world! For it's usually the things that we do not know, that we misjudge — not merely the things that appear evident.

Most human beings, anyway, do their work behind the scenes. But they work there, nevertheless. They think there. They dream there. They sorrow there. They laugh there.

Exteriors are the most deceiving things in the world. Clothes, after all, are just clothes. Their cost doesn't change the skin or the heart of the man or woman wearing them. Exteriors may be bought in the open market — for a price. Nobody was ever known to auction off a new soul.

We may boast of our front-row seats and of our superior wisdom. But in its last analysis, it is thinly clad and flimsy indeed, if it has not looked behind the scenes and understood the motives hidden there. Those to whom most has been given, most of course is expected. But it is oftener true than untrue that these very people silently give ten times more than they are credited with giving — because they prefer to do — behind the scenes.

The venter of happiness and joy upon the face of your friend may hide from you the hourly fight and struggle behind the scenes of that outward character that, in reality in its driving forces makes him all he is to you and to everybody.

We are all workers behind the scenes. Our occasional appearance before the crowd is just a star of our personality, our hopes, our ambitions, our desires.

So let us make our occasional appearance on the stage, one of helpfulness. But let us not forget those behind the scenes who never come out in front to play a part before the footlights.

CHOICE

I would not say that every rose is fair,

For in my garden I have found this true;

I sometimes pass the one of brazen hue

To pluck the trailer bud I know is there;

I've looked on blossoms which I would not wear,

Roses, I think have habits, and they do

As men and women, in the throng a few

Possess some charm which makes us truly care.

So men in multitudes pass down the way,

All human, but each different in design,

And some I scorn for what they do or say,

And some I love and seek to make them mine.

On some strange fancy such a choice depends—

The mass moves on, a few are kept as friends.

Pennsylvania Day, which was fixed for Oct. 3rd, has been postponed and will not be celebrated this year. Gov. Beaver after consultation with the Gettysburg Monument Commission has so decided because he thinks the day could be made more imposing and impressive by deferring it until next spring, probably in May.

His idea is to make a gala day, at which not only the veterans of the late war but also the citizen soldiery of the State's National Guard will be present in force.

UMPIRE FALLS

AS PIERSALL HAS RHUBARB

BOSTON (AP)—American League President Joe Cronin today fined Los Angeles' Jim Piersall $250 and suspended him until August 2 for a brush with umpires at Sunday's doubleheader in Boston.

BOSTON (AP)—Temperamental Jimmy Piersall—the newest halo-wearing member of the Los Angeles Angels—faced a fine or suspension today for an antic in which an umpire landed on the seat of his pants.

The arbiter, veteran John Stevens, was trying to calm Piersall down during Sunday's doubleheader with the Boston Red Sox when it happened.

Piersall, an Angel only since Saturday, was embroiled in an argument over a called strike with plate umpire Bill Kinnamon. It was the ninth inning of the second game and weak-hitting Jim Fregosi had just been walked intentionally to put runners on first and second, two out, Los Angeles leading 5-4.

CHEST HIGH PITCH

Reliever Dick Radatz fired in his first pitch to the 33-year-old Piersall, released last week by the New York Mets. It looked about chest high and Kinnamon raised his right hand, signaling a strike.

Piersall whirled around and began shouting at Kinnamon. Angels manager Bill Rigney raced to Piersall's defense, also protesting. Stevens came in from his second base post.

"I grabbed Piersall's bat, trying to calm him down," said Stevens. "I told him to take it easy. I didn't want him to get into trouble. I told him he'd be suspended if he didn't slow down."

UMPIRE FALLS

"But he swung away from me, going back to Kinnamon, and let the bat go. I had nothing to hold on to and I fell along the third base path."

"But I don't blame Jim. He was just mad and I was just trying to calm him down."

Piersall, whose 12-year major league history is dotted with episodes and escapades of varying color, said he was incensed because Kinnamon accused him of using foul language in his protest.

WASN'T SWEARING

"I wasn't swearing," Piersall said. "I haven't sworn at an umpire all season. I was just complaining about the call. But I'm sick and tired of being called a clown and a nut. I told Kinnamon that the pitcher (Radatz) was throwing real fast — aspirin tablets — and couldn't he bear down more on his calls."

"What the heck," Piersall said. "I'm trying to win a job with this club."

Rigney said he doubted if Piersall had sworn.

"I think Kinnamon made a mistake."

ASIAN CHIEFS

GATHER TODAY

MANILA, Philippines (AP)—The government chiefs of Indonesia, Malaysia and the Philippines gathered today for a summit meeting called to head off Southeast Asia's cold war over the proposed federation of Malaysia.

President Sukarno arrived for Tuesday's summit in a jovial mood after pledging to wreck the Malaysia plan unless his terms are met.

Prime Minister Tunku Abdul Rahman of Malaysia, committed to forming the Malaysia federation Aug. 31, arrived two hours later. He also was smiling.

President Diosdado Macapagal of the Philippines proposed the conference.

The immediate problem is the formation of Malaysia, a chain of states embracing Malay, Singapore, Sarawak and North Borneo, all former or present British territories.

A larger issue is whether Indonesia will cooperate with Malaysia and the Philippines in a confederation of 150 million people to eliminate subversion—Communist or otherwise — and help bring peace and security to the area.

take in throwing him out like that," he said. "What the heck. It was about 110 out there. Sure, Piersall's hot-headed. But he didn't act any differently than he has for 12 years. He was just arguing about the pitch. That's all."

Further action is up to American League President Joe Cronin. His office must rule on all umpire reports of trouble during a game.

GRAHAM TEAM

HAS HORSES FOR PACKERS

By JOE MOOSHIL

Associated Press Sports Writer
CHICAGO (AP)—It's no easy task for a group of inexperienced youngsters to go out and defeat the champions of the National Football League, but that's what the College All-Stars have in mind when they meet the Green Bay Packers in Soldier Field Friday night.

The 1963 All-Stars, once again coached by Otto Graham, have an excellent chance of upsetting the Packers despite the fact that Green Bay will be anywhere from a two to a three touchdown favorite.

If they have nothing else in their favor, there is the fact that the pros have never been able to win five straight. A string of four straight losses was snapped in 1943 when the All-Stars defeated Washington 27-7. Another string of four losses fell in 1955 with a 30-27 victory over Cleveland. The collegians now are out to break another four-game losing streak.

MORE, THAN HISTORY

This year, however, the All-Stars have more than history going for them.

Graham, one of the all-time great quarterbacks in pro football, took over the All-Star coaching reins in 1958 with a 35-19 victory over Detroit. It was the last for the All-Stars.

The All-Stars did it on a combination of the running of Bobby Mitchell, the field goal kicking of Bobby Conrad, the passing of Jim Ninowski, and an adequate defense.

The saying has been that a team must succeed in the air to beat the pros. Last year the All-Stars completed 14 passes for 201 yards but fell before Green Bay's 21-point spurge in the final quarter, 42-20.

Green Bay passed for 255 yards in that game but the Packers also picked up 125 yards rushing to only 30 for the All-Stars. Actually, it was Green Bay's running threat which kept the All-Stars off balance and allowed Bart Starr to heave five touchdown passes.

This year, the All-Stars have four quarterbacks who can both run and pass. They are Heisman Award winner Terry Baker of Oregon State; Ron VanderKelen of Wisconsin; Sonny Gibbs of Texas Christian and Glynn Griffing of Mississippi.

They also have speed and power in the backfield. Larry Ferguson of Iowa, Bob Paremore of Florida A&M, Charlie Mitchell of Washington and Roger Kochman of Penn State have the speed. Ben Wilson of Southern California and Bill Thornton of Nebraska are capable of supplying power.

Bob Jencks of Miami, Ohio, can boot field goals and proved it with one from 27 yards and another from 40 yards in a 13-12 scrimmage loss to the Chicago Bears last week.

Nasser Says Arabs

Will Join Test Ban

LONDON (AP)—President Gamal Abdel Nasser says the United Arab Republic will join in the partial nuclear test ban agreement initiated by the United States, Britain and the Soviet Union. Israel is expected to take similar action.

Nasser told a student group in Alexandria Sunday night he supported Indian Prime Minister Nehru's call for all nations to support and sign a test ban treaty.

Nasser also called for more disarmament negotiations and eventual destruction of nuclear stockpiles.

If the U.A.R. and Israel join the test ban, it will ease a source of tension in the Middle East. They have accused each other of trying to develop nuclear weapons.

State Checks Pool

For Chlorine Gas

READING, Pa. (AP)—State and city officials began today an investigation into the discharge of chlorine gas at a city swimming pool last week which made 59 persons ill.

John P. Durr, regional sanitary engineer of the State Health Department, said he will attempt to clarify whether pool personnel had received proper instruction in changing chlorine tanks.

Officials also hope to talk with Anthony Stopper, 46, of Pennside, the pool superintendent who was changing chlorine tanks when a valve broke. Stopper was one of two persons released from the hospital Sunday. Twenty-seven others remain hospitalized. They are reported in satisfactory condition.

Giants Win Sixth As Phils Beat Dodgers 3rd In Row To Tighten NL Race; Cubs Win 2

By JIM HACKLEMAN
Associated Press Sports Writer

Windy, foggy and chilly it may be, but Candlestick Park remains a happy haven for the San Francisco Giants.

Battered on a recent trip, losing nine of 13 and falling to fifth place in the National League, 10 games off the pace, the Giants have zoomed back into the pennant scramble since returning to Candlestick. The streak has boosted them into a tie for second with St. Louis, 4½ games back of the faltering Los Angeles Dodgers.

The Giants made it six in a row at home and seven straight overall Sunday, riding a two-run homer by Willie Mays to a 3-1 victory over Pittsburgh.

CUBS WIN PAIR

The Dodgers found things less friendly at their palatial digs at Chavez Ravine. They were done in again by Philadelphia, 7-4, with homers by Clay Dalrymple and Johnny Callison the damaging blows.

The Dodgers have lost four straight on their current home stand, which opened promisingly with a pair of victories.

The Chicago Cubs cooled off St. Louis 5-1 and 16-11 and inched into fourth place ahead of Cincinnati Reds, which split with Milwaukee. The Reds won the opener 4-3; the Braves posted a 5-2 decision in the second game.

23RD FOR MAYS

In a night game at Houston, rookie John Bateman's slugging paced the Colts to an 8-2 romp over the New York Mets — who have matched the all-time major league mark of 22 straight losses on the road, set by Pittsburgh in 1890.

Mays, who had hit into one of three double plays executed by the Pirates, got the brushback pitch from Don Schwall twice in the sixth inning before his 23rd homer gave the Giants a 3-1 lead.

Jack Sanford, who had lost his last six since a winning decision on June 18, worked his way out of several jams and finished with an eight-hitter. The 24-game winner of last year now is 10-11.

DRYSDALE CHASED

The Phils blasted ahead of the Dodgers in the sixth on Dalrymple's three-run homer off Don Drysdale, then clinched it with three in the seventh. Tony Taylor, who collected eight hits in the three straight victories at Los Angeles, singled across what proved to be the decisive run and kayoed Drysdale. Callison greeted Ron Perranoski with a two-run homer, becoming the first left-hander to homer against the southpaw reliever in his three big league seasons.

Performing before their largest home crowd in 11 years, 40,222, the Cubs came out of a week-long slump with 30 hits in the sweep over the Cards. In the second game, St. Louis rapped five homers and twice held sizable leads, but the Cubs poured across 10 runs in their last three at bats. Eleven pitchers were used, with Ed Bauta the loser.

TWO BROCK HOMERS

Lou Brock homered twice, tripling and had a sacrifice fly, knocking in five Cub runs. Jim Schaffer hit two homers in the doubleheader, also driving in five runs for the winners.

In the opener, lefty Dick Ellis won't boosted his record to 15-7 with a seven-hitter, striking out 10. Prior to the doubleheader, the Cubs had lost three straight and five of six, while the Cards had won three in a row and seven of eight.

Carl Warwick hit a two-run homer and Bateman a two-run double off southpaw Al Jackson in the first inning at Houston. Bateman later added a homer and single. Ken Johnson, 6-14, held the Mets to six hits.

29TH FOR AARON

At Milwaukee, Gene Freese batted in three first-game runs with a homer and double and Maloney won his 16th against three losses, with relief help from Al Worthington and Dom Zanni. Hank Aaron belted his 29th homer in getting three of Milwaukee's five hits.

Denny Lemaster outduelled Bob Purkey in the second game, turning in a six-hitter, and Joe Torre sent in two Milwaukee runs with a pair of singles.

NEW CASTLE, Pa. (AP)—The Warren Beverages team is the winner of the National Baseball Congress state title.

A three-run fourth inning handed the championship to Warren Sunday, 4-1 over defending titlist Pittsburgh St. John's. The actual winning scored on catcher Jim Ruane's errant throw as he tried to pick Nick Creola off third base. Warren will compete in the national tournament at Wichita, Kan., starting Aug. 16.

YANKEES SPLIT WITH TWINS; ORIOLES LOSE

By JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Sports Writer

Don't let the halo over Jimmy Piersall's head fool you. He's still the most tempestuous and argumentative player in baseball.

The newest Angel — he joined Los Angeles last Saturday — was back in an American League uniform for only a few hours when he became involved in another of his famous skirmishes with umpires.

This one had a little extra flair: An umpire wound up on the seat of his pants—with Piersall's cap with the halo on top in the dirt beside him. The game ended with Piersall on the outside looking in, in a position in which the fiery outfielder may find himself if the league president, Joe Cronin, decides umpire John Stevens didn't fall but was pushed.

Piersall celebrated his return to the American League on Saturday by cracking two hits as the Angels downed the Boston Red Sox 5-2. Jimmy wasn't in the starting line-up as the Angels beat his old team 5-0 in the first game Sunday.

In the second game, which Los Angeles won 5-4, Jimmy was highly instrumental in the victory. He singled in the third inning, stole second and eventually scored. He singled again in the eighth and scored what proved to be the winning run when Billy Moran's double play grounder went through shortstop Eddie Bresnahan's legs.

Detroit beat Washington 3-2 and 6-4 Chicago's White Sox clipped Baltimore 4-1; the New York Yankees split a doubleheader with Minnesota, winning the second game 3-2 after the Twins won the opener 5-1, and Kansas City and Cleveland divided a twin bill, the Athletics winning the first 3-0 with the Indians taking the second 12-7.

"I FELL DOWN"

In the ninth inning of the second game, Piersall didn't like a called strike by plate umpire Bill Kinnaman and protested vehemently. Kinnaman ordered him off the field. That only infuriated Piersall all the more.

Stevens charged in from second base in an effort to calm the raging Piersall but wound up in the dirt near home plate.

"Piersall still had his bat in his hand," Stevens explained. "I grabbed the bat in an effort to calm him. I told him to take it easy if he didn't want to get suspended."

"He let go of the bat and I had nothing to hold on to. As he swung away from me to talk to Kinnaman again, I fell down."

Piersall said he was angry because Kinnaman accused him of swearing.

"I wasn't swearing," he said. "I haven't sworn at an umpire all season. I was just complaining about the call."

Second baseman Nellie Fox rapped his 2,500th hit and rookie southpaw Gary Peters (10-5) hurled his fourth straight complete game as the second place White Sox narrowed the Yankees' lead to eight games.

Outfielder Dave Nicholson, who drove in five runs during the White Sox' doubleheader sweep Saturday hit his 16th homer in the first inning.

John Gory's base-clearing triple and Don Mincher's ninth home run helped Camilo Pascual earn his 11th victory for the Twins.

The Yankees won the nightcap in the ninth on Hector Lopez' two-run single.

Orlando Pena pitched a two-hitter and Norm Siebern drove in two runs in the Athletics' first game shutout triumph. Cleveland came roaring back with 14 hits in the nightcap, scoring seven runs in the sixth inning, the last four on catcher John Romano's grand slam.

Al Kaline of the Tigers cracked a game winning homer in the opener and started the winning rally with a single in the nightcap.

BATTING — Jim Schaffer, Cubs, inserted as a late inning replacement behind the plate both times. Schaffer homered in each game in Chicago's 5-1 and 16-11 victories over St. Louis. The ex-Cardinal homered with one on in the first game and with two on in the nightcap.

PITCHING — Orlando Pena, Athletics, permitted only two hits, both singles, walked none and struck out four in Kansas City's 3-0 triumph over Cleveland in the opener. The Indians hammered out 14 hits in a 12-7 second game victory.

3 BIG NAMES PLAY 18 TODAY TO BREAK TIE

By CHARLES CHAMBERLAIN

CHICAGO (AP)—Arnold Palmer, Jack Nicklaus and Julius Boros, meeting in an 18-hole playoff today for the Western Open golf championships, faced the prospect with varying emotions.

Palmer was a little fidgety because of his putting.

Nicklaus, the cool All-American boy, beamed with confidence after great victories in the Masters and PGA.

National Open winner Boros, the seasoned veteran, seemed past the stage of being bothered by anything while enjoying one of his greatest golfing years at the age of 43.

The playoff winner gets $11,000. Second place is $5,500 and third $3,400.

Par at the Beverly Country Club is 36-35-71 and only eight players broke it for the 72-hole distance.

Belgrade Hotel Night Clerk Saved Lives Of Couple Before Earthquake Hit City

By MARY NOCELLA
BELGRADE, Yugoslavia (AP)—At about 8 p.m. Thursday my husband and I arrived in Skopje by auto from Belgrade.

With no reservations, we checked at the Hotel Macedonia to see if they had any rooms. None. They recommended the Jadran Hotel, a stone's throw away. We didn't realize at the time how big a service this night clerk at the Macedonia had performed for us.

He saved our lives. For the next morning, when the earthquake struck Skopje, the Hotel Macedonia went down, entombing its guests.

LIKE EXPLOSION
After dinner in the Garden Restaurant at the Jadran, my husband and I went to our room on the third floor of the four-story building. We were asleep by midnight.

Approximately five hours later we were awakened by a tremendous roar. My first thought was that an explosion had taken place. Billowing clouds of smoke rose past our windows. The walls of the room were swaying. Overhead the chandelier swung back and forth. Our thermos bottle fell off the table and smashed.

Both of us rushed to the door. Sam couldn't get the key to turn. While we struggled with the lock the first realization came to us that perhaps it had not been an explosion after all. For the vibrations did not stop. Plaster started falling off the ceiling and the windows fell in.

FIERCE VIBRATION
Even at this point I dreaded to think of what I knew must be happening—an earthquake. The vibrations were so fierce I knew the building could not stand long. We expected any moment that the ceiling would be down around our heads. We both knew at the moment what terror meant.

Finally the key turned. I rushed down the steps in pajamas, ran out of the building and bumped into two French tourists. They warned me to get away from the building, which was in danger of collapsing, and out into the main square.

Sam followed me down, having stopped long enough to put on his pants and scoop up his camera equipment.

VOICES FROM DEBRIS
We rushed to the square, just a short distance from the hotel, and saw a huge pile of bricks and stones and crumpled plaster. Dust was still rising from this mound.

All around us there were women screaming, tearing their hair and raising their arms to the sky in gestures of despair. Some ran toward the mound shouting and pointing. And then we heard it: Voices coming from inside of that dome-shaped pile. Of all the horror we were exposed to that morning, this was the most gruesome.

ONLY TWO SURVIVORS
From the bits of information we could pick up from the gathering crowd, we learned that this mound had been an apartment building housing some 30 families.

The three hours we spent in the area we saw only two survivors taken from this pile of rubble... a baby and a very old man. As relatives of the buried victims arrived on the scene, most in night clothes, many bleeding from cuts and gashes, they reacted with pain and anguish at what they saw.

Sam despite the shock, behaved as any person trained in the news field would. Minutes after we left our hotel, he loaded his cameras and started recording what he saw. He told me afterward that this coverage was different. Usually he arrived on the scene of a disaster after the fact. Having been personally involved in this

HOTEL WAS GONE

We walked along the street from our hotel to the main square a half block away. There we saw hundreds of people sitting and standing, most of them with a dazed expression on their faces. From just our short walk we could see that nearly every building had been damaged by the quake... some slightly, many totally.

We reached the corner where the Macedonia Hotel had been. All that remained was debris. The neon sign that we had seen the night before was not stuck high up on the pile of rubble. We shuddered when we realized how close we had come to being victims.

After about an hour or so, emergency vehicles began appearing on the streets. We could see badly injured being rushed somewhere for medical attention. Walking back to our hotel, we saw people with less severe injuries sitting on the sidewalk, covered with minor cuts and bruises.

One tourist couple sat clutching a dust covered suitcase. They were in pajamas and too dazed to move. People with bandages on their limbs ran by occasionally.

PASSPORTS GONE
As we approached our hotel we saw a two-room house that had lost part of its roof and one wall. It looked like an oversized doll house with its exposed furniture except for the pile of bricks that sloped away from the foundation.

Beyond this was our hotel. We saw fissures running jaggedly from the roof to the ground on its side wall. No windows remained. We knew the building as it now stood would never be occupied again.

Sam went upstairs for our luggage, although he was cautioned against entering the structure. We realized when he returned that we had all our belongings except our passports. They had been left with the night clerk when we had arrived at the hotel. A search of the hotel office by the day clerk, who by this time had arrived to size up the damage, didn't uncover them.

We had stopped in Skopje on our way to Greece, but now without passports we were forced to return to Belgrade for new ones. The tragedy seemed to follow us along the way. Passing us from the opposite direction were the emergency vehicles with the red crosses stuck up on their windshields.

As we pulled up in front of the Hotel Moskva in Belgrade, an old man with tears in his eyes asked us for information about Skopje. People were clustered in groups along the sidewalk reading about the disaster in the evening newspapers. Ambulances went by carrying victims from Skopje to medical centers in Belgrade.

It was only after we were safely in our room at the Hotel Moskva that we began to unwind. We wanted to forget the horror we had seen. But we hoped we wouldn't forget how lucky we were to be alive.

Westinghouse's President Dies

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Mark W. Cresap Jr., president and chief executive officer of Westinghouse Electric Corp. until ill health forced him to resign July 15, has died.

Cresap, 53, died Sunday in Presbyterian-University Hospital where he had been confined since undergoing an operation for gastric hemorrhaging July 17.

He had been ill for six months last year with hepatitis.

Cresap's successor as president of Westinghouse, Donald C. Burnham, 48, said the death of Cresap will be deeply felt by the national business community.

WEAVER DENIES HOUSING BILL CUTS PROGRESS

EDITORS NOTE—Is it true that Americans want better homes for Negroes—but not next door? The President's attempt to solve this knottiest of racial problems by White House order has been attacked: It hasn't worked, doesn't go far enough, it goes to far, it will hurt homebuilding. Some say it will even spawn a political "white man's party." The man who gives his views in this exclusive interview.

By STERLING F. GREEN and W. B. RAGSDALE JR.

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy's housing chief said today he believes the presidential ban on racial bias in federally aided housing inevitably will be extended to other housing.

Dr. Robert C. Weaver made the prediction in an interview, even though he conceded that "you can not change attitudes by law" or executive orders.

He also agreed that many Negroes will continue to prefer living in Negro neighborhoods in "voluntary segregation" even if racial barriers are dismantled in white neighborhoods and suburbs.

SEES ADJUSTMENT
But Weaver held that the hostility of white householders to Negro neighbors has been exaggerated, that behavior can be changed by law even if attitudes can't be, and that "the American people do adjust to new circumstances."

As administrator of the Housing and Home Finance Agency—the highest executive post ever held by a Negro—Weaver rejected other frequent criticisms of the order, including charges that it will depress homebuilding and hasn't noticeably helped Negroes, yet is speeding the flight of whites to the suburbs.

The partial question-and-answer text:
Q: Dr. Weaver, a recent book titled "But Not Next Door" pictures an attitude expressed in the quotation, "We don't want to deny Negroes the right to decent homes, just as good as ours—but not next door." Is this a common attitude?

OVER-EXAGGERATED
A: I think it is fairly common. I think it is over-exaggerated. Like most attitudes, it is not always directly connected with behavior.

Q: Since such an attitude does exist, do you believe that any law or executive order can bring about open occupancy?

A: I certainly think that a law and an executive order can accelerate the accomplishment of an open occupancy situation. We have had the same story all along, such as when we passed laws for equal employment opportunity. You can't change attitudes by law, but we are talking about behavior patterns, and laws can effect changes in behavior. Laws are sometimes educational materials.

Q: Are any significant changes visible since President Kennedy's executive order prohibiting bias in government-aided housing? The order, issued last November, forbids racial discrimination in public housing and dwellings financed with Federal Housing Administration mortgage insurance or Veterans Administration loans or guarantees.

A: Yes and No. As far as definitive results are concerned, it is too early to make conclusions. As far as the prophecies of woe and disaster are concerned—to the effect that this would dry up the building industry and, as one spokesman for the building industry said, cut down housing starts by 34 per cent—actually we had in May the highest volume since 1950.

Q: Do you consider the results of the order satisfactory, in view of the fact that Negroes seem to be making slower progress against housing bias than against most other discriminations?

A: If you mean do I consider the results of the order satisfactory, these are about as we expected. If you mean the over-all results of getting equality in housing opportunity, I am not satisfied. Q: Is that because of lack of compliance or cooperation?

GAIN COOPERATION
A: We have found very little noncompliance. We are getting a degree of cooperation, not full, but comparable to the cooperation you usually get when you change the rules of the game.

Q: Are you suggesting that the presidential order should be extended to cover conventionally financed housing?

A: The position I have always taken is that the widest possible coverage is desirable. I have always advocated extending it further than it is now.

Q: Will it be extended?

A: Only the President can answer that. I think it is inevitable, but as to when, I couldn't offer a suggestion.

Q: There has been talk of in-born hostility in the suburbs that can be exploited for political purposes in developing a white man's party that would attract votes in the big Eastern cities and in the Midwest. Do you think there is any such attitude?

DISCOUNTS HOSTILITY

A: I think there is always a residue of hate and know-nothingness in any society and I am sure that is this possibility. I don't think it is a very live probability. I think the dichotomy between the suburbs and the central cities, as far as political, economic and social interests are concerned, has been one that has been exploited, by the very fact that one of the sales pitches of the suburbs has been exclusiveness... That is a divisive trend. But there is also a trend toward greater cooperation between city and suburb in such problems as mass transit, planning and open space.

Q: The administration has been considering a broadening of the order for a long time, but has not acted. Isn't that because there are doubts as to the legality of such an extension?

REQUIRES LEGAL DECISION

A: Here again I can't speak, because I don't make the decisions... there are some legal problems... but I don't think there are any which cannot be surmounted.

Q: Does your experience in the housing agency bear out a common belief that Negro dwellings are allowed to deteriorate?

A: I believe that Negroes are like other people. Some take care of their property. Others do not. I don't think you can generalize. Unfortunately, because the great bulk of Negroes are low-income and many are new to cities, it is easy to identify them with the blight they inherited and to judge all by the lowest common denominator.

Q: Oscar Handlin, historian and sociologist, said the other day that even if there were complete open occupancy, there would still be Negroes who wanted to live with Negroes. There would be Negro communities, just as there are Jewish, Polish and other ethnic sections. Do you believe this is so?

A: I think he is 100 per cent right. Segregation is of two types. There is voluntary segregation and enforced segregation. Voluntary

Eastern League

The Charleston Indians have put the Indian sign on an old nemesis—John O'Donoghue.

The Binghamton Triplets' left-hander had beaten the Indians five times this year in six decisions and was the winning pitcher when the Eastern League All-Stars beat Charleston.

But Sunday, the league-leading Indians beat O'Donoghue (9-9) and Binghamton 4-2 behind the six-hit pitching of Pete Olsen (10-7).

In other action, Springfield swept a doubleheader from Elmira, 8-2 and 9-0, while York at Reading was postponed because of rain.

The sweep allowed the second-place Giants to gain a half game on Charleston, and they now trail by 4½.

GOODSON WINS PPL CROWN

HERSHEY, Pa. (AP)—Gordon Goodson of Harrisburg won a trophy, a set of irons and a 10-cent bag of teas over the weekend in claiming his second Pennsylvania Public Links golf championship.

The big 200-pound Negro fired a one-over-par 72 in Saturday's final round for a 72-hole total of 294, the highest winning score for the tournament since 1957. He was the first member of his race to win the Public Links crown in 1955.

Goodson's first comment on reaching the clubhouse was: "Ed Miller owes me a bag of teas."

Miller, head of the Hershey Park Golf Course, had wagered that Goodson wouldn't finish in the top five.

Goodson, 49, was two strokes in front of hard charging Jim Rutter of Reading who closed with a blazing one-under par 70 for 296. Defending champion Paul Garison and Joe Cackovic, both of Hershey, tied for third place honors with 298s.

Skewer cookery: thread chicken livers and small mushrooms on small skewers. Brush with French dressing and broil on one side; turn, brush with more dressing and finish broiling.

UPHOLSTERY FOR COLLARBONES. Numerous lovelies are writing for a routine that fills out bony collarbones. Quick like—in time to wear siren necklines on an August vacation!

Well now, lovelies with any sort of "thin" problem from ankles to throat must be more forehanded in the recontouring department. It takes much longer to build up than to trim down any figure spot.

In this instance, at least three months are required to upholster the collarbones. If you begin working now, results would become noticeable about mid-October—just in time for winter evening.

The service of Holy Communion will be held next Sunday at 8:45 a.m. in charge of the Rev. James W. Emerick, Millersburg. ning clothes. So why not start work? Even though you miss this season, you'd be ahead for those to come. Here's how to perform:

1. Stand on tiptoe, facing a wall at arm's length. Place both palms on the wall at shoulder level with the fingers pointing toward each other. In slow motion, let your body fall toward the wall. When you've gone as far as you are able, gently push yourself back to starting position. Throughout, be sure to keep the back in a straight line. Repeat 10 to 20 times.

2. Sit with your arms raised straight up overhead. Curl the fingers under, as if grasping an imaginary rod. With maximum muscle tension, pull the "rod" downward until it touches your chest. Relax and repeat 10 times.

3. During your waking hours, try to draw the shoulders down and the throat up. Hunching the shoulders forward or straining them back is a prime cause

TORRRID GIANT STREAK KEEPS CLUB IN RACE

By DICK BARNES
Associated Press Sports Writer
SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—A seven-game winning streak that in one week has brought the San Francisco Giants from fifth place, 10 games behind, to second, 4½ off the pace, still hasn't put much of a smile on the face of Manager Alvin Dark.

"We haven't played all that good yet," said Dark after Sunday's 3-1 victory over Pittsburgh. "I don't figure we've done much yet. We're still 4½ games behind. When (not if) we get on top I'll figure we've done something."

DARK CAUTIOUS
A battery of writers tried to get Dark to admit he was pleased about gaining 5½ games on National League-leading Los Angeles in the past week, but he would only say:
"You fellows look at it that way—all we try to do is win one game at a time."

He also commented: "In the National League there's too much talent for one team to win or lose too many in a row. I figure the top four teams are up there now, but this race isn't over."

HAS PLAYED WELL
Last year's pennant-winning manager did concede that his club "played good the last two days because we've had two good days of pitching."

Jack Sanford won his first game since June 18 when he stopped the Pirates 3-1 Sunday with an eight-hitter. Willie Mays turned a 1-0 deficit into a 2-1 lead with his 23rd home run in the sixth inning after loser Don Schwall hit Willie McCovey with a pitch.

"Good pitching and Mays' home run—that's a combination that won a pennant for us last year," said Dark.

Sanford, a 24-game winner in 1962, had lost six straight until Sunday's victory brought his record back to 10-11. After laughingly commenting that he wasn't sure he'd ever win No. 10, the right-hander said:

Suspect Arrested In Grocer Slaying

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—A 26-year-old man faces a charge of homicide today in the holdup-slaying of a grocery store operator July 20.

The man, John Gilbert, was arrested Sunday night. He was accused of fatally shooting Bernard Simmons and wounding Simmons' wife, Belle.

Police said Mrs. Simmons identified Gilbert Sunday night.

Officers said Gilbert denied the shooting during day-long questioning, claiming he was elsewhere at the time.

Police said Gilbert is a Negro.

Britons Stranded By Clerk's Error

NEW YORK (AP) — "Somebody goofed."

This was the reaction of a Capitol Airways spokesman when asked about a mixup that left 110 Britons stranded at Idlewild Airport Sunday.

They had been told their chartered flight to Manchester, England, would leave at 8 p.m. Sunday. But when they showed up at the airport they found a small notice tacked to a wall near the check-in counter, stating that the flight would depart "as scheduled" at 8 tonight.

The tourists came to New York June 30 aboard a Capitol Airways propeller flight.

GIRL, 15, AND GOLFER SLAIN BY LIGHTNING

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Lightning killed a teen-age girl and a golfer in separate accidents in Pennsylvania Sunday.

Rita Weirs, 15, of Jeannette, Pa., was struck while walking across an open field at Shawnee State Park, about eight miles northwest of Bedford in western Pennsylvania.

Oliver Decker, 38, of Macungie, Pa., was struck at the Lebanon Valley golf course near Myers-town.

BEFORE STORM
Authorities said the bolt struck Miss Weirs shortly before a thunderstorm but that it was not raining at the time.

She had been at camp with her family since Saturday.

Authorities said Decker and another unidentified golfer were riding in a cart during a thunderstorm when the bolt struck the cart. Both were thrown to the ground but the other man was only stunned.

POWER CUT OFF
Thunderstorms also hit the Harrisburg area and Philadelphia's northern suburbs.

Some 3,000 homes in Harrisburg's West Shore suburbs were without electrical power for as long as three hours when winds up to 63 miles an hour blew a large tree across the main power line of the Pennsylvania Power and Light Co. in Lower Allen Township.

On the east shore of the Susquehanna River, 100 homes in Susquehanna Township were without electricity for nearly an hour when a line fuse blew out.

HOMES DAMAGED
Lightning damaged two homes and two transformers in Montgomery County. Power was cut off in Hattboro for about five minutes when lightning hit a transformer in Warmister Township.

The Montgomery County police radio also was knocked out briefly. Another transformer was hit in Abington, causing a temporary loss of power in sections of Willow Grove, Upper Dublin Township and Jenkintown.

Philadelphia continued in the grip of a heat wave with a high of 93. There were widely scattered showers in the city during the day.

In Pittsburgh, violent thunderstorms struck the South Hills area of the city, knocking down power lines, uprooting trees and causing minor flooding. Nearly 1,000 homes were without electricity after lightning knocked out some Duquesne Light Co. power lines.

SIGHT BODIES AFTER CRASH
BOMBAY, India (AP)—An Indian air force plane sighted five bodies today floating in the Arabian Sea area where a United Arab Airlines jet disappeared Sunday with 62 persons aboard.

Hope was virtually abandoned for any survivors among the crew of 8 and the 54 passengers, including 23 Filipino Boy Scouts. There were no Americans aboard.

The plane crashed nine miles off the Indian coast as it was approaching Bombay through monsoon rains. President Gamal Abdel Nasser's personal pilot was at the controls.

Fishermen said they heard the noise of plane engines and what sounded like an explosion.

It was feared the passengers were belted into their seats in preparation for landing when the plane hit the water.

Navy vessels resumed their search in torrential rains today for the main wreckage of the Comet airliner.

Airline officials said the tail section and a number of instruments were among debris picked up by Indian minesweepers six miles off Madh Island near Bombay.

The five bodies were sighted off Madh.

WEST POINT, Ohio (AP)—Richard J. Lacher Jr., 16, lost his left hand and suffered severe powder burns while firing a cannon Sunday during a mock Civil War battle. His condition was reported as serious.

The accident occurred as Lacher shoved a ramrod down the barrel of a 16-pound brass cannon.

More than 10,000 persons viewed the mock battle commemorating the 100th anniversary of the capture of Confederate Gen. John Hunt Morgan.

LEGISLATURE HAS BIG TASK FOR THIS WEEK

HARRISBURG (AP)—Members of the General Assembly returned to the capitol today with a host of major issues still to be resolved in the final week before adjournment.

The legislature is scheduled to adjourn at noon on Wednesday, but two factors loom as possible roadblocks.

Although the Republican leadership is going all out in an effort to meet the deadline, minority Democrats have expressed opposition to ending the session with the question of reapportionment unsettled.

A special session to realign the House and Senate districts is slated for the fall.

The Democrats, however, who feel they would have no chance to bargain for a satisfactory reapportionment bill in a special session, have withheld votes the GOP needs to pass $57 million in special aid to private colleges and universities.

Republicans say they will call the bluff of the opposition and let the Democratic party bear responsibility for failing to provide the aid, heavily counted on by the institutions.

COULD STALL DEADLINE
Democrats also could stall the deadline by insisting that all bills remaining on the calendar be read at length—a time consuming process.

Still to be settled are bills to increase truck weight limits, revamp the 1961 mandatory school district reorganization law, extend civil service and increase the borrowing limit of the General State Authority.

The most controversial legislation still facing the assembly, which spent five days last week cleaning up many details, is the question of providing tax-paid bus transportation for non-public school children.

The House is expected to pass and send to the Senate a bill including an amendment to permit school districts to provide such aid on an option basis over established routes.

The House also has in hand a Senate-passed bill to amend the Constitution to specifically permit school bus aid to private schools.

Major debate is anticipated in both houses when the bus proposals are called up for votes.

Former Presidents Will Back Treaty

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Hugh Scott, R-Pa., has predicted that all the living former presidents will line up in favor of the nuclear test ban treaty.

They are Republicans Herbert Hoover and Dwight D. Eisenhower and Democrat Harry S. Truman.

Scott said Sunday in a program taped for Pennsylvania television and radio stations that "a lot of folks" are going to point out that the Russians have never kept an agreement they desired to break and he is "just as mistrustful."

Sen. Joseph S. Clark, D-Pa., said limiting the ban to tests other than those underground "largely eliminates the fear that the Russians can cheat" and increases the prospects of ratification that a comprehensive treaty, including underground tests, might not have.

TWO SOLDIERS ARE KILLED IN KOREA AMBUSH

By K. C. HWANG
SEOUL (AP) — North Korean troops killed two American soldiers and wounded another today in a dawn ambush just south of the demilitarized zone about 20 miles from Seoul, the U.N. command announced.

Col. George Creel, U.N. command spokesman, said the Reds launched "a vicious and unprovoked attack" on three members of the U.S. 1st Cavalry Division as they rode in a jeep to a guard post near Chungyang-Dong.

Creel said the American soldiers were hit by machine-gun fire and grenades which apparently came from seven ambush positions just inside the demilitarized zone.

7 IN PARTY
"We can assume there were seven North Korean soldiers in the raiding party," he said.

There was no immediate comment from the Pentagon on the incident, which occurred two months after a helicopter carrying two American captains was fired on and forced down in Red territory.

The North Koreans have refused to release the captives despite U.S. demands in the mixed armistice commission.

EARLY AMBUSH
Creel said the ambush attack was made about 5:30 a.m.

The wounded soldier was hit in the chest, arms and legs.

Names of the Americans were withheld until their next of kin were notified.

The ambushers could easily conceal themselves. That part of the demilitarized zone has grown into a virtual jungle since the armistice ending the Korean War was signed 10 years ago.

PMA OPPOSING BIG TRUCK BILL

HARRISBURG (AP)—A bill to raise the present truck weight limit on state highways to 73,200 pounds was criticized over the weekend by the Pennsylvania Motor Federation (PMA).

Charles E. Pugh, federation general manager, said in a statement, however, that should the legislature adopt the 36-ton limit, the trucking industry should be more thoroughly policed in the interest of safety. He also suggested an increase in the registration fees of three-axle trailers to pay "costs of rebuilding the roads damaged by heavier trucks."

The measure opposed by the federation would increase the present 60,000 pound maximum, making truck weight limits the same on both state and federal highways.

"Business and industry in Pennsylvania have banded together and joined the truckers to add six tons more payload on trucks, while ignoring the safety aspects of the question and overlooking extensive damage to our vast system of 42,000 miles of state highways," Pugh said.

Science Shrinks Piles New Way Without Surgery Stops Itch—Relieves Pain
New York, N. Y. (Special) — For the first time science has found a new healing substance with the astonishing ability to shrink hemorrhoids, stop itching, and relieve pain — without surgery.

In case after case, while gently relieving pain, actual reduction (shrinkage) took place.

Most amazing of all—results were so thorough that sufferers made astonishing statements like "Piles have ceased to be a problem!"

The secret is a new healing substance (Bio-Dyne®)—discovery of a world-famous research institute. This substance is now available in suppository or ointment form under the name Preparation H®.

At all drug counters.

Sports Car Makes Second Escape Trip

BERLIN (AP) — A young Argentinean who rescued his sweetheart from East Berlin by driving a sports car beneath a concrete barrier drove the same car a young Austrian used for the same feat three months before.

The car still carried the same license plates.

An English friend had told me about the Austrian's escape," said Norbert Konrad, 22, "but he didn't have full details and I had not read the story at the time."

"After we made it and I saw a picture of the story, I realized it was the same car. I almost fainted."

Konrad came to Germany—his father's native land—more than a year ago and got work in West Berlin as a radio mechanic. On a visit to East Berlin he met pretty, blonde Helga Werner, daughter of a Communist.

They became engaged last October despite the opposition of her father. Authorities refused her an exit permit.

ST-LAURENT KEYS FASHION TO GOOD MOOD

By LUCIE NOEL
PARIS (AP)—Yves Saint Laurent today keyed his fall and winter fashion note to opulent prosperity with a lavish collection called the "good mood."

There were no bombshells or radical changes. Saint-Laurent, who stepped into the shoes of Christian Dior after Dior's death and later was forced out, has attracted enough wealthy clients to his own house to avoid sensationalism.

Hemlines comfortably cover the kneecaps. Sports and evening wear claimed most of the interest from the collection.

PUSS IN BOOTS
For sports, Saint-Laurent put his models into "puss in boots" styles. Suede, alligator and calf boots climb thigh-high and zip or strap on. Tight pants are worn with them.

The ensembles are completed by tweed or mohair tunics and space helmets or fancy headgear. Evening wear is restrained in silhouette but opulent. Jeweled and sequined embroideries appear in long, tight sleeves. Jet, topaz, small pearls and rhinestones are used.

Saint-Laurent develops his own trend of past designs and adapts it for winter. His tunics and peasant shirts are promoted to slender shifts with a low waist often marked by a flat welded seam or a line. Low vertical pockets and back belts often coming part way in front also stress a lower waistline.

NEGROES IGNORE NAACP PICKETS
PHILADELPHIA (AP) — The National Association for the Advancement of Colored People picketed Philadelphia's main post office today to protest alleged discrimination in promotions.

Only a small fraction of the number predicted by their leader appeared on the picket lines and they were ignored by both Negro postal workers and Negro patrons.

Cecil Moore, president of the Philadelphia Branch of the NAACP, had said he would have 100 pickets start the demonstration and would build up to 3,000.

But, there were only 20 pickets marching in a circle at the main entrance today.

Some 150 police stood by. Moore, questioned by newsmen, said the 20 pickets were "assistant coordinators" of the NAACP and were being used "because we want people who are disciplined. We don't want any force."

TORONTO (AP)—Dr. Walter A. Riddell, 81, Canadian diplomat who tried unsuccessfully to get the League of Nations to apply sanctions against Italy for its invasion of Ethiopia, died Saturday.

FALL, WINTER TV PROGRAMS GET BUILDUP

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—This is the season when television columnists visit this busy film community for a preview of fall and winter programs.

This activity involves visiting a lot of film studios and talking with producers, stars, writers and press agents. Each will inform the reporter that the series with which he is connected is going to be fresh, new, imaginative, off-beat, creative, just marvelous — undoubtedly the hit of the fall season.

The reporter will jot down the superlatives and privately maintain a steady wait-and-see attitude — not cynical and not entirely un-believing.

Eastern States Meeting At Park

The annual Eastern States Farmers Exchange membership meeting for members from the Biglerville and Gettysburg areas will be held Wednesday evening at the South Mountain Fairgrounds.

The meeting will begin with a chicken barbecue dinner served from 6 to 7:30 p.m. Members are urged to make reservations for the dinner by picking up their tickets from the Biglerville service center, Representative William Orner or from their advisory council members.

Men from the various commodity departments will be on hand in their "Country Fair Booths" to answer questions members may have. There will be demonstrations during the evening and there will be drawings for door prizes.

PENNSYLVANIA

Members of the General Assembly returned to the capitol today with a host of major issues still to be resolved in the final week before adjournment. The legislature is scheduled to adjourn at noon on Wednesday, but two factors loom as possible roadblocks.

Mark W. Cresap Jr., president and chief executive officer of Westinghouse Electric Corp. until ill health forced him to resign July 15, is dead at the age of 53.

Police Confer In Strangling Case

COATESVILLE, Pa. (AP)—State police planned today to confer with Dist. Atty. Samuel Halpern of Chester County before bringing a charge against a Coatesville R.D. 2 woman accused of strangling her 10-month-old son.

State police were holding Mrs. Patricia J. Schaum, 22, on an open charge. They said she phoned police to report she had strangled her son, Tracy Lyn, in his crib Sunday. Officers said the woman has been receiving psychiatric treatment. They quoted her as saying she "had no real reason for the strangling except that she wanted to die."

Authorities said that Mrs. Schaum's two other children, Barry Jr., 3, and Cynthia, 2, were in the house at the time but she apparently made no attempt to harm them.

Mrs. Schaum's husband, Barry, a laboratory technician at Jernersville Memorial Hospital, was working at the time.

DIES OF INJURIES

SOMERSET, Pa. (AP)—Mrs. Blanche Reside, 68, of Concord, Delaware County, died Saturday in Somerset Community Hospital from injuries suffered July 19 in a two-car crash on the Pennsylvania Turnpike.

Her husband, Norman, 74, and daughter, Naomi Reside, 39, one of the drivers, also were injured in the crash six miles west of the Laurel Hill Tunnel. They were reported in fair condition. The other driver was not hurt.

BOYLE'S Grab Bag

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK (AP) — Things a columnist might never know if he didn't open his mail:

When a dog bites you, he also takes a nip out of your pocket-book. America's 600,000 dog-bite cases a year cost about $5 million in medical expenses.

Incidentally, 76 per cent of the victims are under the age of 20. One study showed nearly two thirds admitted the dog's attack was not entirely unprovoked.

HOT WEATHER HINT

Hot weather hint: If your air-conditioner or electric fan breaks down, a quick way to cool off is to soak your feet in a pan full of water and ice cubes. Science has also found you'll feel better in the long run if you pour a pitcher of martinis over your head than if you drink them.

Prosperity note: There are more $20 bills in circulation today than there were $10 bills two decades ago.

Do you gamble? If you don't, you're in a minority. It is estimated that up to 120 million Americans indulge with a fair degree of regularity in some form of betting — on everything from baseball to bingo.

QUOTABLE NOTABLES

Our quotable notables: "It is easier to keep half a dozen lovers guessing than it is to keep one lover after he has stopped guessing."—Helen Rowland.

Depressing news for male motorists: America now has more than 33 million women drivers.

Puzzle: If half a salted peanut will supply enough energy to fuel the brain for an hour of intense thought, why is it people in cocktail bars don't say more smart things?

A survey showed that England has the highest proportion of newspaper readers in the world. This is particularly true any day that Christine Keeler takes the stand.

Worth remembering: "The teen-age conception of social security is going steady."—Arnold H. Glasow.

It was Francois De La Roche-foucauld who observed, "A man who is always satisfied with himself is seldom satisfied with others."

Woman Nearly Itches To Death

"I nearly itched to death 7 1/2 years. Then I found a new wonder cream. Now I'm happy," writes Mrs. P. Ramsay of L.A. Calif.

Here's blessed relief from tortures of vaginal itch, rectal itch, chafing, rash and eczema with an amazing new scientific formula called LANACANE. This fast-acting medicated cream kills harmful bacteria germs while it soothes raw, irritated and inflamed tissue. Stops scratching—no more itching. Don't suffer! Get LANACANE at drugstore.

VOTE RECORD IN CONGRESS

WASHINGTON (AP) — How Pennsylvania members of Congress voted on recent roll calls:

House:

On passage, 272-103, of bill to strengthen and speed programs for prevention of air pollution: For—Byrne, D.; Clark, D.; Corbett, R.; Dague, R.; Flood, D.; Fulton, R.; Gavin, R.; McDade, R.; Milliken, R.; Moorhead, D.; Morgan, D.; Nix, D.; Rhodes, D.; Saylor, R.; Schneebeli, R.; Schweiker, R.; Toll, D.; Weaver, R.; Whalley, R.; Against—Curtin, R.; Goodling, R.; Kunkel, R.; Not voting—Bartlett, D.; Dent, D.; Green, D.; Holland, D.

YOUNG MOTHER KILLS SON, SELF

SOMERSET, Pa. (AP)—A young Somerset County mother shot her 4-year-old son and then took her own life Sunday in what authorities termed a murder-suicide.

Coroner Robert Halverson of Somerset County said the bodies of Mrs. Mary Ann Ringer, 22, and her son, Mark Allen, were found in the boy's bed at their home in nearby Glencoe R. D. 1.

Authorities quoted Mrs. Ringer's father-in-law, Clyde J. Ringer, as saying the woman had spent several weeks in Pittsburgh's St. Francis Hospital recently after suffering a nervous breakdown. He said she had gone to a doctor Saturday night.

The bodies were found by the woman's husband, William, who had been working at his father's house next door. Another child, 16-month-old Seth Howard was discovered unharmed in another room.

Weddings

Anders—Bream

The marriage of Miss Cherie Lloyd Bream, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George H. Bream, R. 4, to Robert David Anders, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert E. Anders, R. 1, was solemnized at Elias Evangelical Lutheran Church, Emmitsburg, Md., Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock, where the double-ring ceremony was performed by the Rev. Ronald Fearner and the Rev. Philip Bower.

The altar was decorated with white carnations and yellow gladioli. Miss Ruth Shuff, the organist, gave a fifteen-minute recital of traditional wedding music before the ceremony.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a floor-length gown of white Chantilly lace over white satin, styled with a scalloped neckline and long pointed sleeves, which was designed and made by her mother. Her waist-length veil was held by a crown of seed pearls and she carried cymbidium orchids with streamers of summer flowers on a white Bible.

MAID OF HONOR

Her maid of honor, Miss Janet K. Black, R. 4, wore a street-length dress of yellow chiffon over taffeta. Her headpiece was a veiled ring and she carried a nosegay of white daisies and yellow carnations.

The bridesmaids, Miss Patsy Gulden, R. 6, and Miss Joan Anders, sister of the groom, wore street-length dresses of green acetate and nylon lace with overlay of sheer nylon bodices and skirts of sheer nylon with nylon net petticoats. Their headpieces and nosegays were identical to those of the maid of honor.

Wilmer Shank, Emmitsburg, served as best man and the ushers were William and Harry Anders, brothers of the groom.

FLOWER GIRL

The flower girl, Miss Cindy Griffith, Gardners R. D., wore a pink princess style tulle dress with white accessories. She carried a basket of white daisies and yellow carnations.

The bride's mother wore a blue street-length dress with white accessories and a corsage of yellow roses. The groom's mother wore a gold and white jersey street-length dress with white accessories and a similar corsage.

Immediately following the ceremony a reception was held at the Lamp Post Tea Room after which the couple left on a wedding trip to an unannounced destination. For traveling the bride chose a navy blue and white suit with accessories in the same colors. Upon their return they will reside at 131 N. Washington St.

The bride graduated from Gettysburg High School in 1962. She is a member of the Business and Professional Women's Club of which she was named as one of their Girls-of-the-Month in her senior year at high school. She is employed by Gettysburg College in the Admissions office.

The groom graduated from the same school in 1960 and is now serving in the U. S. Navy.
